JOHN CUDAHY'S AFFAIRS.
CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 17.—The affairs of John Cudahy, who figured so prominently in the recent lard corner, are in a fair way for adjustment. John Cudahy's three brothers, Mike, Edward and Patrick, have put their shoulders to the wheel in the proposed effort to settle the affairs of their less fortunate brother. A new proposition was submitted this morning to John Cudahy's creditors which probably assures to him payment of all the debts. Collateral worth $800,000 will be put up to secure $750,000, or one-half the indebtedness. Payments will be made on the remainder of the debt, and the remainder will be paid off in installments.

Plaintiff asks for a decree compelling defendants and Waddock to recover to him 214 shares of stock and 277 shares of green stock, and that they be enjoined from issuing to any other person.

NOTIFIED OF REDUCTION.
IOWA, Mich., Aug. 17.—The failure of Robert Kincaid, the banker and capitalist, proves to be a very serious matter in the light of later details. He was President of the Orlissens' Bank of Mount City, a partner in a general store. The liabilities of the bank were $15,000, while the assets of the Hood concern were $15,000, with $70,000 in cash. Only $500 was found in cash. The body of the banker was found floating in the water, but the general store is nearly $50,000 behind. There are also seventy-three creditors of whom Kincaid borrowed sums ranging from $100 to $4,000.

WILL NOT SHUT DOWN.
BONNE TERRE, Mo., Aug. 17.—It is learned on undoubted authority that the recently published report of the probable shutdown of the St. Joe Lead Works and mines was absolutely unfounded. CIRCUIT COURT NEWS.

Conspiracy Charged in a Patent Suit Mechanics' Lien.

Mr. C. M. Napton filed papers this morning instituting suit for Herman A. Ulm against Bart S. Adams and James H. Waddock. The plaintiff says that on June 8, 1898, he was the owner of the exclusive right to use a patent for machinery for making envelopes and placing in closures theron and stamps thereon. He paid $41,000 for such right to the State of Missouri and the County of St. Clair, Ill. About that date he entered into an agreement with the defendants and one Jess A. Graham to engage in the manufacture and mailing of envelopes, etc., and the manufacture of machinery for said purpose. A corporation was duly formed, with a capital of $100,000—1,000 shares at $100 per share. Herman A. Ulm subscribed to 800 shares; Jess A. Graham, 100 shares; James H. Waddock, 99 shares; Bart S. Adams, 1 share. The incorporation was called the St. Louis Importing and Manufacturing Co. Plaintiff alleges that Graham paid nothing for his stock, but that Bart S. Adams paid $3,000 for the stock issued to him and Waddock paid the latter is supposed to be holding his stock for the benefit of the corporation. The stock was given to the corporation all his right under the patent, which, as stated, cost him $41,000. The corporation began to do business and continued to do so until Aug. 10, last, but before that date, he alleges that Adams and Waddock quarreled and disagreed with him, charging him with a number of things, but he could not tell what they were. FIFTEEN SPECIALS BROUGHT IN 11,600 PLEASURE-SEEKERS

The People From the Rural Districts Beginning to Arrive—Great Jam at the White City This Evening—Department of Admissions Embarrassed by the Crowd—Exposition News.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, Aug. 17. The financial outlook of the World's Fair was never brighter than it is now. Since the recent radical reduction in the running expenses there has been a marked increase in earnings, and the average attendance is growing larger day by day. Not since President Cleveland touched the electric button that opened the White City to the world has there been such an influx of visitors from a distance as there has been during the last two or three days. Fifteen special World's Fair trains brought 11,600 visitors into the city last night. They were all from Eastern points and came because of the low rates offered by Eastern lines. Every train carried its full limit of cars and each car was comfortably filled. The first train came over the Erie. It was made up of ten coaches and contained 740 people. An hour later two more specials over the same line brought 1,500 people. Other roads bringing in special trains were the Pennsylvania system, four trains, and 8,200 passengers; the Grand Trunk, two trains, and 1,100 passengers; the Nickel Plate, two trains and 1,300 passengers; the Wabash, two trains and 1,600 passengers; Michigan Central, two trains and 1,800 passengers.

While the gate receipts are increasing the World's Fair officials say that the average amount of money spent by each visitor is 20 percent less than it was during the first three months of the fair. They account for this in two ways. First, they say it is due to the economy of money and the hard times. Then they say it is due to the character of the people who are coming. At the opening of the fair the visitors were largely from the large cities, and now those from the rural districts are beginning to arrive.

Never before has there been such a rush for admission at the gates as to-day. Every surface can arriving after 7:30 o'clock was jammed with fair visitors, and all along the line the transferred passengers were waiting for foot room on the car platform. One after another ran by them, having neither seats nor standing room. The premature economy of the department of admissions was made apparent. Gate-keepers have been discharged in bunches for a week or more, and the force was not half adequate to-day to accommodate the crowds that impatiently waited to be admitted. At the Sixty-fourth street gates three gate-keepers only were left, and the people were forced to wait in line until the gates were open to admit them. In the same file, and during the forenoon rush there were 200 people in line at each entrance, and the same number at each exit.

ADVANCED PRICE OF SEALSKINS.

VICTORIA, British Columbia, Aug. 17.—P. Rithet & Co. (Limited) have advanced the price of sealskins $5 each as a result of the finding of the Behring Sea Board of Arbitration. This action fails to please, however, for it is taken as indicating what all here feel has come, the death of the sealing industry for all save the Commercial company.

Capt. Cox, President of the Sealers' Association, will be present to the tribunal and find an excuse for not protecting English rights. The finding shows they were right, but make them away so that England may in future be able to do the like. My children, but the law is against you. The wholesale restrictions won't protect seals and the sealing protection on islands or on ships when in tropics in April. They, however, kill the business for all save the Commercial company, and that is the reason why the price is so high. Our sealing is done in the tropics, but the price is so high that no sealers will be sent out next season."

Another sealer, Capt. J. D. Warren, who has been aggregating $200,000, says the sealers had better get their catch as soon as possible, sell their fleet and close shop.

The prohibition of firearms is the time chosen for a closed season and the absence of restrictions upon island killing make it impossible for vessels to compete with any other. The sealing is done in the tropics, but the price is so high that no sealers will be sent out next season.

STAY OF EXECUTION.

Building Commissioner Reid's Head
Safe for a Few Days.

THE PROCEEDINGS TO REMOVE IT LAID
OVER TILL FRIDAY.

Lord High Executioner Walbridge Determined to Cut Short the Political Life of All Democrats in His Domain, Despite the Provisions of the Charter Yearning for Reid's Scalp.

The trial of the case of McMath and Walbridge vs. Reid was laid over by Judge Walbridge this morning until 10 o'clock a.m. Saturday next.

Before the doors of the Mayor's outer office were opened quite a crowd had gathered in the corridor and began to discuss the merits of the case. It was generally conceded that Reid's side would have no merit after the judge had charged the jury, and the best thing for him to do was to hunt a new job. By 10 o'clock nearly all the witnesses summoned to support McMath's charges had arrived. They were: Chief Lindsay of the Fire Department, A. H. Zeller of McMath's office, Park Commissioner Fletcher, Supervisor Hennessy, Fred Gabel, Deputy Comptroller, Water Commissioner Holman, Sewer Commissioner Southard and Col. Joseph F. Gallagher, Superintendent of the Poor-house.

George B. Reid.
Most of these gentlemen, it appears, had been invited from time to time by Presenting Attorney McMath to visit the Hospital and Poor-house, and incidentally he called their attention to what he described as gross neglect on the part of the Building Commission. He now calls them as witnesses for the inadvertent admissions made by them at the time.

THE COURT SCENE.

When court opened Judge Walbridge took his seat with McMath on the right and City Counselor Marshall on the left. Prisoner Reid came in with his attorneys, Leverett Bell and William B. Thompson, and took seats in front of the Mayor's desk. The witnesses were scattered about the room and some half dozen spectators.

The charges in substance are, as already published, that Commissioner Reid had approved certain work on new engine-house No. 82, which was defective in character; also certain work on the new surgical ward in the City Hospital, causing it to cost the taxpayers a sum in a very unhealthy condition. The third charge relates to work at the Poor-House and Reid is accused of having approved the contractor's bill for $10,000.

CAG LIVES TWO MORE DAYS.

Mr. Marshall announced that the prosecution was ready with its side of the case.

Mr. Leverett Bell asked that a little more time be given Mr. Reid to prepare his defense suit, as the charges were numerous and had only been served on Mr. Reid a few days.

Mr. W. B. Thompson explained that he should be engaged all next week in the trial of a case and asked that the present matter be put off until the early part of September. As far as the public business goes, the names of the witnesses for the prosecution might be heard at once and then time given Mr. Reid to produce his witnesses.

It is believed all the facts were or ought to be in Mr. Reid's possession, and that a day or two would be all that was necessary for him to prepare a written defense.

Mr. Bell asked that the matter be laid over until Monday. This did not suit Mr. Reid, who had some depositions to take on that day.

Mr. Bell then suggested Tuesday, which was most convenient for the defense.

The Mayor said that this was an important case in which the public business was concerned, and he would give Mr. Reid until 10 o'clock Saturday morning next to make his answer.

The witnesses were then dismissed until that time.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

Several New Structures to Be Erected—Reports of Agents.

The Legg-Blackwelder-Holbrook Real Estate Co. are letting contracts for the erection of new buildings in Pensacola. The movement is to be erected on the west side of Seventh street, between Olive and Pine streets. It will be a ten-story fire-proof structure complete in every detail and will affect the most approved style. It is expected that the work of wrecking the old building on the site which constitute part of the old pool alley will commence in a few days.

F. H. & C. B. Gerhart this morning let a $10,000 building contract for four handsome houses on Olive street east of Pine. The first will be very similar in appearance. But colored Roman brick with terra cotta trimmings will be the material used for the front entrance.

Mr. Frank Gerhart says that the new Wainwright block at the southeast corner of Wainwright and Olive avenues will be completed in time for occupancy in a few days. These improvements were built by Mr. Ellis Wainwright at a cost of $50,000, on a piece of ground which cost $20,000, making an investment of $70,000. Mr. Wainwright refused an offer of $60,000 for the ground before he commenced the improvements.

ADMIRY'S REPORTS.
F. E. Wain & Co. report the thefts of $50,000 worth on the north side of Pine street between Olive and Pine avenues, from John Schwartz to Fritz Wabot, at $15 a foot. F. E. Wain & Co. report the theft of $145 feet of glass on the south side of Olive street, north of Farmer street, at $15 a foot, from Herman Melnick, at $15 a foot. The amount of the loss is $2,175.

Brown & Son report the sale of two five-room flats with back yards for $4,500 each.

The Mathews-Ward Real Estate Co. report the sale of 2417 to 2425 Olive street, which cost $10,000, for $12,000. The property rents for $3,500 per annum.

The ultimate of the firm of Bradley & Quinlan left last night for Chicago.

E. G. Greffet has received from a three weeks' visit to Europe. He was much impressed with the fact that St. Louis business conditions are not so bad as those of New York.

Hon. J. H. Terry has returned from the World's Fair at St. Louis.

Alfred Grindon of the firm of Fisher & Co. is able to be again and was at the office attending to business this morning.

"DO AS WE DO." And few will speak evil of thee."

Most people will take in the great Remnant sales to-morrow. They are advertised in to-day's Post-Dispatch.

SAM FREEMAN'S CASE.

Heavily Fined for Attempting to Assassinate White Children—Paxson's Court.

Sam Freeman, the negro who was arrested by Officer Ed O'Connell yesterday for taking indecent liberties with the two little daughters of Mrs. Mayer of 4802 Easton avenue, was fined $100 by Judge Paxson this morning. Freeman is a revolting specimen of humanity. The entire right side of his head is devoid of hair, and his left eye closed so tightly it scalding water would come out. This disfigurement, with his brutal face, renders him anything but a pleasant sight to behold. He denied in toto the charges against him.

Blanche Blackwell, colored, was fined $100 for attempting to assault Jim Swanson, the side. The pair, it will be remembered, quarreled about another woman.

Miss Pickford, a young, work-house inmate, was fined $10 for being drunk on the streets. Mary has been before Judge Paxson on several occasions before for the same offense, and she has been given time to promise to reform. She has been up so often recently, however, that Judge Paxson thought a term under Mr. Lohrum's tutelage might cure her bacchanalian habits.

SHE WENT ASTRAY.

A Mother Who Had Been Deserted—Her Child Now Sick.

A rather sad case of desertion, a broken heart, a mother's shame and an abandoned child was brought to light this morning at the City Dispensary. Mrs. Nellie Mohr, a slender young girl, giving the name of Mohr and her address as 1226 North Thirtieth street entered the Dispensary about 8:30 o'clock and asked Dr. Fitzpatrick to prescribe for a 1-year-old child she carried in her arms. The doctor saw that the child was suffering with cholera infantum and was in a very precarious condition. He advised that it be sent at once to a hospital. Before she left, however, Mrs. Mohr told Dr. Fitzpatrick that the child was left with her about a week ago by the father of Mrs. Nellie Fisher, whose home she had gone West and does not know. The Fisher man, she said, had entered upon a life of shame on Spruce street, where she believed she was still living. The woman's father, whose name was not known, lived at Falls Springs, and hearing that his daughter was living a life of shame came to St. Louis, took his wife and from there placed her with Mrs. Mohr to rear. The child became so ill, Mrs. Mohr got alarmed and brought it to the Dispensary. She did not know the Christian name of Mrs. Fisher's husband.

BISHOP KAIN'S RESIDENCE.

The Conductor Will Make His Abode With Archbishop Kenrick.

The meeting of the Catholic clergy to-morrow to arrange for the reception of Archbishop Kain has awakened afresh the question of the conductor's place of abode. Rumors of a parish on the one hand and of a permanent residence with Archbishop Kenrick are in abundance. Fr. William O'Connell, a member of the committee which called on the Archbishop, said a few days ago that the conductor will reside permanently at the archiepiscopal mansion. "We told the Archbishop that we intended to give the conductor to his house," he said.

AMUSEMENT TO-NIGHT.

UNHIG'S CAVE—"Bohemian Girl."

Rain has fallen in the Lake region, Ohio and Lower Mississippi Valleys and a few other scattering places.

The weather is unusually clear in the W.

N. Gulf States and the Upper Mississippi Valley. Elsewhere it is generally cloudy.Decidedly warmer weather is reported from the Western States.Forecast for Missouri—Warm; southeasterly winds; generally fair, except occasional light local rains and thunder-storms.Forecast for St. Louis for thirty-six hours from 8
a. m. to-day: Generally fair; warmer to-day and tomorrow.The Republican policy of protection has at least established the manufacture of tramps.The Republic cannot be accused of loose thinking on the coinage question. It does not think.PILES were needed when the new City Hall was begun and piles will be needed before it is finished.HOW LITTLE more Congressmen know of finance than other people may be readily perceived by a careful perusal of the debates.If the still in an Alabama jail yielded a gallon a day, how is Gov. Tillman to suppress the sightless tiger in free South Carolina?It looks as if we are going to be bothered with gold coin, instead of getting the convenient silver certificate, until times grow better.CHICAGO wants only $4,000,000 more from Uncle Samuel now—not for the Fair, but for a new post-office. Chicago is the least bashful of all Uncle Samuel's girls.THE Iowa Republican platform speaks of Benjamin's Harrison's "broad statesmanship." Are we to infer that the Iowa delegation in '93 is to be solid for Benjamin?THE whole British world shivers when a religious disturbance in India is reported.
The Sepoy mutiny was an awful example of what is likely to happen any day in England's Eastern Empire.THOSE women who annoy our Congressmen just when a great financial debate is on should be suppressed. How is a statesman so base to pull himself together sufficiently for his country's welfare?THE assertion that Australia is getting more wealth from her coal mines than from her rich gold and silver mines, is probably true. With a well organized coal combine, gold and silver are not in it with coal.THE Iowa Republican platform relegates the prohibition question to the legislature.
The Iowa politicians want the old soaker vote and the prohibition vote to flock together for them. What astute statesmen!If free-trade sentiments were circulated under the forged seal of Senator Edmunds it was a great outrage. Senator Edmunds traded with Mr. McKinley for the sugar bounty, and would scorn to be considered a Free-trader.THE United States District Attorney in Indianapolis says: "There will be no escape from prosecution by persons who have violated the law." But he does not refer to violations of the anti-trust law by Mr. Olney's late clients.WHILE President John Adams spent most of his time at his home in Massachusetts, being absent from the capital during the most critical periods, Jefferson followed his example, living a good part of the time at Monticello.—Mr. Cleveland has precedent for his absences.THE news from South America to-day is like that of yesterday and the day before.
In fact the annals of that unhappy continent resemble the famous poem written by the Arkansan, which contained 999 verses all alike except the first and last, and they were like the rest.In spite of its condemnation by an overwhelming majority at the polls, the Republicans laud the McKinley

"wise measure." They have taken their cues from its author whose political existence hangs by the slender thread of a chance that the American people can be "fooled all the time."

It is easy to understand why the Mohammedans and Hindus are murdering each other in Bombay when it is known that the Mohammedans publicly killed cows, which are sacred beasts among the Hinduos, and that the Hindus kill pigs and throw them into the Mohammedan mosques. There is hardly anything more terrible or ridiculous than a religious war.

THE rebellion in San Salvador against President Ezeta was a characteristic Spanish-American disturbance fomented, according to report, by Ezeta himself! in order to get a pretext for shooting some people of importance whom he disliked.

The worst enemies of our neighbors on the South are the bedizened savages who make sport of human life and turn their capitals into bandit camps.

A DEMOCRATIC OPPORTUNITY.

The Republican party of Iowa deserves the defeat which should come to every party which attempts to play a bunco game on the people.

The plank of the platform adopted by the Des Moines Convention embodies a confidence trick. It is a sneaking attempt to play the hypocrite and beguile the Prohibitionists and the anti-Prohibitionists into support of the party. In the opening sentence it endeavors to dodge the issue of prohibition altogether. Then it recites the services of the party to the cause of prohibition and without pledging the party to one course or the other it holds out hope to both by relegating to the Legislature the task of adapting the law to the wants of the people by enforcing prohibition where it can be enforced, and granting local option where the people demand it.

But although this platform is a votcatching fraud it is most significant. It is a virtual acknowledgment by a party which has thoroughly tested prohibition that it is a failure, that the prohibition law cannot be enforced and that the party of prohibition cannot win without a practical repudiation of its principles. It is an admission from its stronghold that prohibition is a dead cock in the pit.

It is probable that the Iowa Republicans will alienate their prohibition supporters without winning the aid of the anti-Prohibitionists. The time is opportune for Democracy to make a bold and honest fight which will forever redeem the State of Iowa from the follies of protectionism and paternalism.

THE "HONEST DOLLAR."

Gold and silver have long been the money of commerce, the medium of international exchange, because of their intrinsic purchasing power or the universal value of the commodities of which they are composed.

Each nation having its own legal tenders, and there being no such thing as an international legal tender law, there was need of money whose purchasing power as a mere metal would equal its purchasing power as a coin, and be the same in all nations, regardless of their various legal tender laws.

Obviously, therefore, we must define that these trust monopolies were hurtful, and certain statutes were enacted to destroy them.

They confidently believed that the Cleveland Administration would keep faith with them and obey orders. But Mr.
Olney is not even done as much as his predecessor who, at least, made a show of fight. The people are disappointed. They expected more zeal in promise-keeping than the Cleveland Administration displays.

more it would gratify the entire country.
Isn't it possible to thus bring the West's two

We almost feel certain that Phoebe is creases or decreases in purchasing power.

When it decreases it wrongs the creditor, and when it increases it wrongs the debtor and compels the producer to produce and the merchant to trade on a progressively falling market.

Governments can, however, hold the scales of justice level between creditor and debtor interests by continually correcting any serious fluctuations in the purchasing power or exchangeable value of the commodity composing the monetary unit—by taking out some of the metal when its purchasing power increases—as we did with our gold coin in 1835, or by putting in more metal when its purchasing power decreases, as it is now proposed we shall do in the case of our silver dollar.

But it is our duty to rectify the depression of the silver in our silver dollar, is it not equally our duty to rectify the appreciation of the gold in our gold dollar?
We do not see what else the Philadelphia
Times can mean when it says:

GOV. TILLMAN has applied for a trademark for his South Carolina whisky. This trade mark is not described, but everybody knows what it should be. It ought to be a likeness of the pig in fresh spring water, with a gourd, a gourd set between the Governor and the Governor of South Carolina and the Governor of North Carolina on that memorable occasion when the latter Governor gave utterance to his immortal remark.

or basins of a coin balance. As one goes down the other goes up. To make both of them "honest dollars" we must not only make them of equal intrinsic value, but of precisely the same purchasing power they each had twenty years ago, before the great decrease in the supply of gold increased its value and before the great increase in the output of silver decreased the value of the latter metal.

But nobody at Washington proposes to do this. The contest there seems to have settled to the question whether we shall assume dogmatically that the higher the purchasing power of the metal the more honest the dollar, and, therefore, stick to gold and demonetize silver, or assume just as dogmatically that the lower the purchasing power of the metal the more honest the dollar, and, therefore, establish free coinage for silver at a ratio which will demonetize our gold.

The Silver Bar to Mexican Trade.

Monterey Correspondent San Antonio Light.

There is a movement on foot among the merchants and importers of Mexico to meet at a meeting of the Boards of Trade to meet at the capitals of the States for the purpose of providing ways and means to prevent the depreciation and destruction of the silver and to protect the mining industries of the country.

In order to get their views your correspondent interviewed a number of the Monteray merchants to what action they would take when a majority of them are in favor of shutting down on all foreign trade. That is, that they will not purchase another dollar's worth of goods, nor import another article from the United States or Europe, until they put their silver dollars on a par with the American dollars. As the Mexican dollar contains more silver than the American dollar, they think it should have the same purchasing power as the American silver dollar. But it has not. It takes one dollar, a half, a ten and a five cent piece to buy an American silver dollar.

If the merchants and manufacturers of the United States will not protect them and allow them the same value for the Mexican silver dollar that they do for the American silver dollar, they will not purchase another dollar's worth of goods from them. If they will not do so then they propose to erect their own factories and manufacture their own goods. Many of them think that this conspiracy against silver has been concocted in Europe, and they propose to cut off entirely. They can get along without it.

But although this platform is a vot-
catching fraud it is most significant. It is

AS THEY SEE IT

The Children's Summer Camp a Surprise to Visitors.

What Is Being Done for Sick Children of the Poor.

WONDERFUL RECOVERIES IN THE PAGE CONDEMNATIONS TO DEATH.

Dr. Bushell's Patients in a Fair Way to Come Back Strong and Well on Monday—Other Sick Children Getting on the Harbor Boat's Passenger List for the Next Trip to the Camp—Only the Earliest Applicants Can Be Accommodated.

There is a note of surprise in the comments of every visitor to the Children's Summer Camp on the extent of the work. "I had no idea—" "If the people of St. Louis could only see what is being done—" "This is indeed a great charity—" Those are phrases which fall from all lips. "If the contributors could only see this work," said John S. Morris in a letter, "they would double their subscriptions."

It is one thing to read of Tree View Farm and another thing to see the patients in the tents and on the lawn under the great trees. There have been many visitors and all have been enthusiastic in their praise of the work. They see the good that is being done and the opportunity for good. They see the babies when they are being rallied back to life, hear the stories of mothers' stories and the glad shouts of the older children at play. They find Tree View Farm beautiful, not only in its elevation, its lawns and its clean sky over it, but in the use to which it is put.

The medical staff of the camp was increased to-day by the arrival there of Dr. J. E. Gorham, who will remain with Dr. T. J. Russell. The latter has been gratified by the ready response of nearly all patients in the camp to treatment, and is hopeful of saving all. There are some desperate cases, some babies whose mothers were sent to the camp by physicians in the city after every art known to them had failed to arrest the infants' disease. Fresh air and the cleanly influence of the camp were relied upon to do the work of salvation—if it could be done.

The most remarkable part of the camp's story is the instances of recoveries effected in such cases. Intelligent nursing and skillful medical treatment supplementing the air have brought babies back from the edge of the grave. Every one at the camp lives out of doors. In the city their lives are spent entirely within walls. The influences for house life are strongest in the city, while in the camp the influences are all the other way. There is no shutting a tent up as closely as sleeping-rooms in tenements. The pure air will find its way into canvas sleeping-chambers in spite of all efforts to exclude it.

In the first days mothers are fearful of "colds," but that fear passes when they have been exposed to the air several days and nights with nothing evil resulting. They are also afraid of sun-burn at first and after a week or two a sunburner's pride in the depth of the brown tan is a popular cuticle.

Only a half dozen of the patients now in the camp will remain over Monday. All others will return to the city on the Harbor Boat which leaves St. Louis at 8 o'clock a. m. and arrives at Elkhorn—the landing nearest the farm—at 1 o'clock, and, returning, reach St. Louis again at 5 o'clock.

The party going to the Camp will be made up of all the sick children that can be found in the city. Applications are received at this office and tickets issued to mothers. Agents are also at work in the poorer quarters of the city hunting out children who need the outing to save them from suffering or death. The company of patients bids fair to be the largest yet sent to the Camp and the accommodations will be pushed to the utmost limit. When the largest possible number that can be cared for and treated has been ticketed, further applications must be refused. In consequence it is desirable that all deserving mothers should apply at this office as early as possible, that they may be registered and given tickets which insure their admission to the boat on Monday morning.

WEARS WOMAN'S CLOTHES.

A Colored Man Arraigned Before Judge Morris on a Foul Charge.

A peculiar case was presented in the First District Police Court to-day. Joseph Hughes, a coal black negro, was arraigned on a charge of wearing woman's clothes. The negro was arrested yesterday by Officer Johnson of the Fifth District at 888 Chestnut street, where Hughes is employed doing washing and ironing. He denied force. He is a laborer, and is said to be the son of a colored woman who does little for his family. The Assistant Prosecuting Attorney refused to issue the warrant until he could hear the young woman's statement.

WEAR'S BENEFIT.

To-night there will be a progressive euchre contest at John A. Maher's Hall, 220 Lucas avenue, for the benefit of the fund. It is under the auspices of the West End Thursday Euchre Club, the lady members of which organization have sold the tickets, secured the long list of valuable prizes and made other preparations. No tickets will be sold at the door as the demand has been so great that there would not be room in the hall to accommodate more players.

THE "CAMP" FAMILY.

Three dollars and a half came from Bonne erre, Mo., to-day for the Children's Camp. And this came with it.

BONNE ERRE, Mo., Aug. 16, 1893.

To the Post-Dispatch:

I am of the "camp" family desiring to show their appreciation, in a small way, of the good work being done by the Post-Dispatch towards the relief of the poor. We send $1.00, which we hope is a sufficient amount and that it be placed to the credit of the Tree View Camp Fund. Wishing you every success in your most worthy cause, we remain yours, very truly,

THE IRON TRADE.

Activity of Steel Mills in Pittsburgh District the Only Good Feature.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 17.—The activity of the steel mills in the Pittsburgh district, which is greater than that at any time since the general strike, is the only feature of improvement in the iron situation.

These resumptions are altogether apart from the scale considerations. In the general wage situation there has been no move on either side and no prediction can be made on the subject.

The fact seems to be that in the mines an accumulation of orders in certain lines, and resumption was necessary in order to prevent a general strike.

As to the general outlook, one has varying reports, according to the experience of the respective companies.

Surprising as the reduction in pig iron was in July, there will be a further heavy cut in August. In the Pittsburgh district, with a reduction of 10,000 tons in active furnace capacity, stocks showed a rapid accumulation. The stoppage of puddling and blast furnaces shows nearly all sales of mill iron and factories are now made out of their regular output. Such as have special tracks and running, with others operating rapidly.

The general run of new business is very light and prices are made by buyers who continue to quote offers that sellers are scarce able to credit.

Huckster Mike Lynch Gives a Fictional Name and Jumps His Bond.

An ingenious scheme to beat the justice of the municipal courts was unearthing by Chief Deputy Marshal Erb of the Second District Police Court yesterday. Several days ago Mike Lynch, a huckster, was arrested for disturbing the peace. When his father called to bail him out he gave the name of William Tracy, another huckster, and also a fictitious address, where the case was called in the Second District Police Court he failed to appear, and his bonds were declared forfeited. When the Marshal called at the address given on the bond he found the place where Lynch was not known there. However he learned where Tracy was, and arrested him on a capias. Tracy denied that he was the man to bail him out but gave the name of William Tracy, another huckster, and also a fictitious address, where the case was called in the Second District Police Court he failed to appear, and his bonds were declared forfeited. When the Marshal called at the address given on the bond he found the place where Lynch was not known there. However he learned where Tracy was, and arrested him on a capias. Tracy denied that he was the man to give him his name as Tracy. The case will come up in court to-morrow.

Rebarman's Removal.

A DETERMINED TRAMP

Made Several Attempts to "Do Up" Farmer Brinkmann—Carondelet News.

Squire Neopper of Luxembourg is looking for a tramp who made a most determined attempt on Tuesday last to assassinate, or at least badly injure, August Brinkmann, a farmer residing four miles south of Carondelet, on the County road. Brinkmann was sitting on the back porch of his residence when a rough looking and powerfully built tramp came up and said: "I want something to eat and I am going to have it or somebody is going to get killed." Brinkmann had his gun, but his assailant had disappeared when he came out. Later there was a noise at the front door, and suspecting that an attempt would be made on his life, the farmer stood a shotgun ready to meet his assailant. The tramp retired without making any. Later Brinkmann discovered the tramp attacked him. This time the tramp tried to defend himself with a small pocket-knife, but could not make a pocket. The tramp then ran away and went to the house for a gun, but his assailant had disappeared when he came out. ## AFTER GEN. LEWIS.

St. Louis Girls Denounce the Missouri Paris.

THEY FEEL HE HAS PUT A SERIOUS SLIGHT ON THEM.

Considering the Manne in Which He Has Been Treated by St. Louis Society the Young Ladies Think He Has Acted Shamefully in Throwing the Apple to Columbia's Fair Daughters.

Gen. James M. Lewis now knows that "hell hath no tithe like women's scorn," only in Gen. Jim's case it is the plumb and the case he would. It all happened in Gen. Lewis being deputed to select the handsomest woman in Missouri to represent the State at the big Confederate reunion to be held in Birmingham in October. Gen. Lewis' selection was Miss Katherine Turner of Columbia, Mo. While Miss Turner is handsome and the selection a worthy one, and one which the entire State will be proud of, the ladies of St. Louis feel that they have been slighted. They feel that Gen. Lewis has been ungrateful after having been honored by the St. Louis girls in the manner which he has, and had he selected anybody else outside the city the result, as far as the feelings of the St. Louis girls are concerned, would have been the same.

GEN. LEWIS RETIRING.

A reporter called on Gen. Lewis this morning to find out how and why he passed St. Louis' fair daughters by and tossed the apple to Columbia.

The modern Paris was found busily engaged in stacking his library about the floor country to do it. If Jim Lewis is so struck on the country why don't he live there? It doesn't care. But he does care, and it is insult to every man and woman in St. Louis by acting in the manner he has. He ought to be ridden out of town on a rail."

"I don't know about Jim," said Miss Ethel, "but in one of the ladies who looked longingly at a locket and a package of letters she carried in her hand."

"What are we here for?" remarked another beautiful dream in a white dress and a big sailor hat. "What are we here for? Wasn't this meeting called to make a selection of General Lewis in going outside of the city for the handsomest woman. Now Miss Turner had the right, and Jim Lewis had the right to compete for the right."

Jim Lewis is in the manner in which he has right after the manner in which he has been honored by the St. Louis girls, go out side of the city's walls to denounce us," said the speaker again.

"Just at this point the speaker caught sight of a lead pencil pointing to one of the ladies seated directly opposite to her.

"It has been two years since Jim Lewis called on you or took you out to a reception hasn't it? Well, you out three months since you reported us engaged. Now I right to burn my letters, yet you who cherish the right of a walls dead for two years about it?"

"I am not crying, I was only thinking how base."

"Well, ladies," said the chairman, "what is in this meeting?" You have heard it stated that Jim Lewis, when intrusted with the great undertaking of picking the handsomest woman in Missouri, alighted you all and went to the country."

"Just a minute, Miss President. Just a word. May I say it?" asked a lady from Wisconsin.

"Go ahead," came in chorus from the assembly.

All you girls know I am to be married in October and it isn't sour grapes with me."

"I didn't know it was sour grapes with any of us," said two or three at once.

ENLIVENS SOCIETY.

The Big Progressive Euchre Party to Be Given This Evening

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE SUMMER CAMP FUND.

Will Be Held at John Maher's Hall—All Tickets Sold—The Dull Monotony of the Present Week Also Broken by Two Weddings—Doings in the Social World.

The West End Thursday Euchre Club's progressive party at John A. Maher's hall, 234 Lucas avenue, to-night is assured of success. It is for the benefit of the Children's Summer Camp, and in consequence there has been much interest manifested in it from the first proposal. All the tickets have been sold and none can be had at the door to-night, as there would not be tables to accommodate more players. The sale of tickets was in the hands of the ladies of the club, who disposed of them to their friends as fast as applications had been received until the entire number issued had been taken. The list of prizes which has been published is quite long and embraces many articles of value. All were donated for the occasion by dealers and friends. In addition to donations previously mentioned the J. H. Crane Furniture Co. have furnished a large number of tables for the occasion and the Waukeesh Hygias Mineral Springs Co. have supplied the water for the lemonade.

The gentileman's booby prize will be one of the surprises of the evening. It was selected by the club's president, Mrs. B. A. Mills, after much thought, and will certainly add much to the merriment of the evening.

The social calm of the heated town was broken this week by a wedding of more than usual interest in society circles, that of Miss Emma Bailey, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bailey, to Mr. Irwin Z. Smith, and by the marriage of Miss Mary Ella Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Whitmore of Old Orchard, to Mr. A. Hager Bryant.

The excursion which will be given this week on Saturday evening by the ladies of the Women's Training School will be the last of this summer's series. The steamer Panguid will be found at the foot of Locust street at the appointed hour, 8:30 o'clock, and there will be a band of music on board, a good supper and the usual attractions, which will all be thoroughly delightful socially and successful financially.
